NATURE EVENTS

Tuesday • December 3

Flute Journey—Katie Dancer

A multimedia concert that combines solo flute music with stories and footage of Katie's outdoor adventures. Katie is classically trained and perpetually inspired by the natural beauty found in her outdoor adventures.

Sat • Dec 7 & 21

Little Acorns

Discovering the natural world is as easy as opening a book! Ideal for preschool-kindergarten children.

Monday • December 16

Animal Feeding—Virtual

The animals are hungry! Watch as a naturalist feeds the amphibians, snakes and turtles. The presenter will e-mail the program link to participants both the day before and the day of the program.

Sat • Dec 21

Marvelous Mammals

How do animals survive winter? Find out this and more through natural artifacts like skulls and furs.

Saturday • December 28

Avian Innovations: Exploring Bird Anatomy

Join us for this fascinating program focused on birds' winter adaptations. We'll uncover the secrets of how these remarkable creatures survive the winter months.

This program is in partnership with the Missouri River Bird Observatory.
