August 29th

9:00 AM -
2:00 PM

Kauffman Foundation
Conference Center

Hosted by Parent Leadership Training Institute KC in collaboration with SchoolSmartKC and The New Teacher Project (TNTP)

When parents are true partners, stronger literacy systems help every child thrive.

Join parents, educators, literacy experts, and community organizations for a day of learning, conversation, and connection focused on strengthening literacy outcomes for Kansas City children.

Whether you're wondering how children learn to read, want to better understand your school's literacy approach, or simply want to connect with other families, this event is for you.

You'll Learn About

- The current state of literacy in Kansas City
- The Science of Reading and what high-quality literacy instruction looks like in today's classrooms
- Literacy for All Students (LFAS) and how the initiative is working to strengthen literacy outcomes across Kansas City schools
- How families and educators can work together to support student success
- Local organizations and resources available to families
- Ways to become a stronger advocate for literacy in your school and community
